Dear Helen McAra,

Thank you for your e-mail and we appreciate your input.

The advertisement is placed on behalf of three separate and newly established New Zealand companies, who will own and operate a number of deep-water fishing vessels.

These vessels will be operate mainly out of Timaru, but also from other ports in the South Island once their vessels reflag.

Recognizing that your organization may well have members who are suitably qualified to work on these vessels, we would nonetheless prefer to deal directly with those members with regards to conditions of employment. As you say, those matters are personal to the crew concerned.

Please feel free therefore to forward the advertisement to any of your members who you think might meet the general requirements stated in the advertisement and ask them to contact us.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Tae Wang
on behalf of DW NZ Ltd.

Hello again

We are becoming increasingly concerned about the lack of response to our inquiry below. If we don't receive any response by the end of today we will be notifying the NZ Police about this apparent suspicious activity in eliciting personal information, including cvs and supporting official documents, from New Zealand applicants, including our members.

Hello

Did you receive our email below? Can we have a reply asap please? At the moment we have 15% of our seagoing membership unemployed, so it would be good to circulate details of these jobs to them.

Thanks!

Hello

We saw your recent advertisement for New Zealand deck officers & engineers for your fleet of fishing vessels. This union represents masters, deck officers and engineers who are qualified to work on deep sea fishing vessels. We will circulate your advertisement to them but can you please give us more details about the terms and conditions of employment, the type of vessels, names of the vessels etc.

Cheers.

Regards

Helen McAra
